Watch Out.

IF in grocery stores, in cooking schools, or by peddlers in your kitchen, other baking powder are recommended or urged upon you in place of the Royal, reject them. It is unsafe to substitute any baking powder in place of the old standby, the thoroughly tried Royal. The official reports show that all others are cheaper made powders of inferior strength, and contain lime, alum or sulphuric acid.

OUR BEAUTIFUL CEMETERY.

Improvements Recently Made, Under Construction and In Prospective.

The Cemetery Company are making improvements gradually which promise at no distant day to make this beautiful resting place of the dead the equal in its appearance and keeping of any of the largest and best cared for cemeteries in the country. One improved feature demands another, and another a third until within a short period it is observed a complete transformation has taken place before the citizens are aware of any change whatever. The unsightly house was removed a little over a year ago to make room for the beautiful chapel, and a gate at the entrance was replaced by a handsome new one and iron structure. This was followed by the smoothing and laying off into lots and a new driveway of the extreme western portion and the erection of a number of elegant monuments. Increased beauty added inspiration and doubled effort to keep the grass, flowers, shrubs, trees and drives in the most perfect condition, and at the close of the long day of the late season, Mr. W. C. Drake, the grounds are as unsurpassed in the beauty evolved from the work of man as they stand prominent in the natural beauty of a rolling surface and high elevation. The latest improvement which the company is making is the construction of a sidewalk and a wall of rubble masonry, surrounded by a smooth dressed coping along the property abutting the turnpike. It will present a great change for the better in the exterior view of the grounds, and it will be the initial step in the sidewalk improvement that will be made later at the turnpike from High street to the cemetery gate. If it were only possible now to infuse faith enough in the City Council Cemetery Company to restore the beautiful river sidewalk along the edge of rocks to the top of the hill at Alexander's monument, but an added pleasure would be experienced in a walk to that spot, loved in the hearts of all Kentuckians by memories of Boone, Henderson, Brown, Blackburn, Flora, Johnson and hundreds of others resting there in eternal

The Ladies' Meeting.

The meeting of ladies in the parlor of the Capital Hotel last Saturday evening was largely attended and was presided over by Mrs. Jennie C. Morton. It was rather an Owens meeting than a purely anti-Breckinridge one, and a glowing tribute was paid to Mr. Owens by Mrs. Morton. The ladies subscribed a neat sum toward the expenses of the free train from this city to Paris on Tuesday, through their finance committee, consisting of Mrs. W. M. Saffell, Mrs. Chas. F. Exum and Mrs. Jas. A. Scott. Two coaches of the train were almost entirely filled with ladies who went to the barbecue.

A Curious Phenomenon.

The dense clouds of smoke which accompanied the strong wind that set in from the west Monday afternoon, and which are supposed to have come from the northern forest fires, were a most curious phenomenon. They prevailed all over this section of the country, and at times were so dense as to shut off the view of objects not over a half-mile away, while the smell of smoke was plainly perceptible. By Tuesday morning, however, the smoke had entirely disappeared, and a grateful change in temperature had relieved the oppressive heat of several weeks past.

Twenty-five Cents.

Isn't much money but it will buy a bottle of the finest Cough Cure on earth. That is what we claim for Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure and what thousands of people have told us. Don't neglect a cough. It may cost you as many dollars, or possibly your life. When you feel the first symptoms go to P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store, invest 25 cents in a bottle of Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure and cure yourself.

Land For Sale or Rent.

The attention of farmers is called to the advertisement, in another column, of Mr. C. M. Jones, offering 300 acres of land for sale or rent.

The Modern Beauty.

Thrives on good food and sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy, she uses the gentle and pleasant liquid laxative Syrup of Figs.

Are Having Trouble.

The Kentucky river packets are having considerable trouble in making their regular trips from this city to Louisville, notwithstanding their very light draught, owing to the low stage of the Ohio, which has now less water than for several years. The Kentucky is not affected, owing to the slack water from its locks and dams, but a heavy rain at the headwaters of both streams would be a great blessing.

Josiah Allen's Wife.

The famous authoress of "My Opinions" and "Betsy Bobbetta," states that she owes her freedom from colds and general good health during the winter season to the use of Dr. Hale's Household Ointment which she regards as the greatest medicine of the age. Old Dr. Hale having been her physician years ago gives her great confidence in all of Dr. Hale's Household remedies, the best in the world. Sold by P. H. CARPENTER.

FRANKFORT COLLEGE

Opens With a Large Attendance and Assuring Prospects.

The first session of the college opened Wednesday of this week with an enrollment of over sixty and an assurance of seventy-five or eighty. This is far more than flattering—a great success.

Better still is the high order of talent represented. A brighter, more promising class of pupils is rarely gathered in any school. The faculty as now constituted consists of fine efficient members, capable of the best work in our highest colleges for young ladies.

We are pleased to learn that young ladies who have passed school days and some married ones, as also young men who are lovers of music and education, are applying for admission in these departments.

Mrs. Lea, teacher of piano and vocal music, is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, and has no superior as a teacher of music in the State. She will form a special class in harmony.

Miss Spraght brings like qualifications to the department of education and elocution and will take pupils of any age for special lessons in both of these.

The college is to be founded on hard work and the best fruits of higher education.

It deserves and is getting the patronage of those who most highly appreciate solid and liberal education.

Miss Mary Burke, one of Kentucky's talented artists, is forming classes not only in oil painting but crayon and china painting and other branches of art.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by P. H. CARPENTER, South Side Drugstore.

Matrimonial.

STEELE-WILSON—At the home of the groom's brother, James T. Steele, on the South Side, Thursday evening, Sept. 13, 1894, by Rev. George Darsie, Mr. Wm. Steele and Miss Lillie Wilson, both of this city.

County Clerk Smith on Thursday issued a marriage license to J. S. Land and Lorena Stephens.

Dame Rumor is busy with the names of several popular young people who, so the saying goes, are preparing to try double harness in the near future. We are not at liberty to name them, but the announcements, when made, will cause considerable surprise amongst those not posted.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale: Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for Liver, Stomach and Kidneys, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's new Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them, and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

Items of Interest.

It is estimated that fully 20,000 persons were present at the Owens barbecue at Paris Tuesday.

Sarah Gullet, a young white girl who had been employed as a cook at Mt. Sterling, suicided near that place Sunday by taking paris green. No reason is known for her rash act.

The National Encampment of the G. A. R. will be held at Louisville in 1895. The vote was taken at Pittsburg on Wednesday and the Falls City came out ahead on the first ballot.

Col. Breckinridge addressed a large crowd of his supporters in this city yesterday afternoon. The feature of the occasion was the parading of the Breckinridge clubs from the country precincts, who marched through the streets on horseback, headed by a brass band.

Col. Breckinridge on Thursday night gave out an interview in which he charges Mr. Owens with various and sundry immoral and dishonorable actions, and supports the charges with affidavits of the suspicions of certain parties. Mr. Owens denies all of them, but the action of Col. Breckinridge in springing such stories at the eleventh hour can do him no good in any event.

Messrs. Frank Chinn, J. A. Violet, Jas. A. Scott, Rev. W.

C. Taylor and others of this city have been making speeches for Owens during the past week, both in this and adjoining counties.

The Owens Club, of this city, had their final rally at the Opera House last night. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and if confidence goes for anything Owens will be sure to get a big majority in the city precincts.

The L. & N. railroad has begun to show a steady increase in its earnings over last year, although there is still a loss as compared with the year before. The increase over last year, for the first week in September, was $48,770.

Hon. W. C. Owens, who spoke at Millville on Wednesday, spent the evening receiving congratulations from his confident supporters here. Mr. Owens shows the strain of the campaign, but is perfectly assured of his success. He returned to Scott county Thursday morning and made a speech at one of the country precincts that day.

Prof. C. M. Alberti, of Lexington, who has been a prominent anti-Breckinridge orator during the campaign, was assaulted in Davis' restaurant in that city on Tuesday morning by County Attorney John R. Allen, a Breckinridge supporter, who, carrying his pistol in his hand, slapped Alberti's face. The latter, being unarmed, asked Allen why he did not shoot, but before matters could go further the belligerents were separated.

United States Commissioner J. D. Jones, whose home is at Grayson, was removed from office by Judge Barr, sitting in Louisville, on Wednesday. Mr. Jones was charged with filing fraudulent fee bills against the Government. He is a prominent lawyer of Carter county, and his friends refuse to believe him guilty of intentional fraud. District Attorney Smith will present the case to the Federal Grand Jury.

John H. Inman, the railroad magnate, has announced that the new Southern Railroad Company, with which he is connected, will positively obtain control of the Cincinnati Southern at an early date. It is possible, if this should be the case, as the Southern system is the L. & N.'s great rival, a deal advantageous to all parties concerned may be made by which the Kentucky Midland will be relieved of the financial trouble which recently threatened to throw it into the hands of a receiver.

The country will breathe freely at last. Peter Jackson, the great and only Peter, has refused to sign the articles of agreement for a fight with Champion Corbett, which were presented to and signed by the latter, the fight to be brought off by the Sioux City Athletic Club. Further than that he has taken down his $10,000 forfeit and announces that he despairs of obtaining a fight with the Champion. Perhaps Peter would be satisfied if Corbett would agree to resign the Championship to him, no matter how the fight went, but we doubt if even this would suit him.

As was expected the meeting of the Congressional District Committee, at Lexington, last Saturday, was for the purpose of adopting a resolution by which the voters were to be pledged to support the nominee, whoever he may be. This, the Breckinridge people hoped, would keep the Owens men who would not willingly vote for the Colonel under any circumstances, from going to the polls, but it does not seem to have had that effect. So far as we are able to learn, not a supporter of Owens will refuse to take the pledge if required, as they are all perfectly confident of Owens' nomination.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Appendicitis.

Have you got the new disorder?
If you haven't, it's in order.
To succumb to it without delay.
It is called appendicitis.
Very different from gastritis.
Or the common trash diseases of the day.
It causes a happy frolic.
Something like a winter colic.
That has often jarred our inner organs some.
Only wrothless with the weather.
And the otherwise most healthy.
Having got it, then you're high to kingdom come.
Midway down to your intestine.
Is a little alley dark and blind as night:
Leading off to simply nowhere.
Catching all strange things that go there—
As a pocket. It is clearly out of sight.
It is prone to stop and grapple
With the seed of grape or apple,
Or a snail's button swallowed with your pie.
Having leaved on these clutches
They begin internal battles
That are apt to end in manions in the sky.
Once located, never doubt it.
You would never be without it.
It's the end among society that's gay.
Old heart failure and jaundice
Have decamped and gone to pieces.
And dyspepsia has fallen by the way.
Then stand back there, diabetes,
For here comes appendicitis.
With a brood of inner troubles on the wing.
S. veridica, here's hoping
You'll withstand all drastic dopping
And earn the appellation "Uncrowned King."

Deaths.

LaFontaine.—Little France, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave LaFontaine, who, with their three other children had been ill with diphtheria, died at the residence of her parents, on Wilkinson street, on Wednesday morning, and, owing to the nature of the disease, was buried in the cemetery the same afternoon. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all in their affliction. We are glad to learn that their other children are doing well.

Lewis.—Miss Mary O. Lewis, formerly of this county, but who had been for the past fourteen years residing in Richmond, Va., with her sister, Mrs. Sue Price, died at the residence of John W. Holladay, Esq., at "Prospect Hill," Spottsylvania county, Virginia, on Friday morning the 7th inst, aged 78.

Miss Lewis was the daughter of John and Jean Wood Lewis, and was born at Llangollen, in Spottsylvania county. When quite young her parents removed to Kentucky, and their place near Woodlake, which they also named Llangollen, became a center of hospitality and culture for that region. Her father was a noted educator, and many men who afterward became famous received their education at his school. Miss Lewis herself was for many years a teacher. She was a woman of noble character, pious and unselfish, and she devoted her life to the welfare of others. Never having married, she never wanted for a home, for she and her sister, Miss Elizabeth H. Lewis (who preceded her to the grave a few years ago), familiarly known to us all as "Aunt Bet and Aunt Molly," were always in demand in the homes of their brothers and sisters. Uniting with the Presbyterian church early in life, she was ever an example of what a true christian woman should be, and she will now reap her reward.

Miss Lewis was an aunt of the editor of the ROUNDABOUT, who was at her bedside when she breathed her last, she having been taken ill when on her way to attend the "Lewis Congress," at Bel-Air, in Spottsylvania county. Besides her nephews and neices in this and other counties in Kentucky, she had two brothers and two sisters still living, viz: Dr. R. A. Lewis, of Richmond; Dr. J. M. Lewis, of Greenville, Miss.; Mrs. Sue Price, of Richmond, and Mrs. Lucy D. Holladay, of Prospect Hill.

Nicol.—Little Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Nicol, is another victim of diphtheria. The little fellow, who was about eight years of age breathed his last Thursday morning, having been ill only a few days. He was a bright, popular little man, and, other besides his parents will feel his loss.

Szymanski.—Little Frank Szymanski, son of the well-known barber, Mr. Alex. Szymanski, was another victim of the dread diphtheria on Wednesday morning. He also was six years of age and was buried on the same afternoon with little France LaFontaine. Mr. and Mrs. Szymanski are the recipients of much sympathy in their bereavement.

White.—The infant child of George White, colored, also died from diphtheria on Wednesday, at the home of its parents in Belle-point.

Physicians Puzzled.

Many persons are unable to sleep on their left side. The cause has long been a puzzle to physicians. Metropolitan papers speak with great interest of Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist in nervous and heart diseases, who has proven that this habit arises from a diseased heart. He has examined and kept on record thousands of cases. His New Heart Cure, a wonderful remedy, is sold at J. W. Gayle's. Thousands testify to its value as a cure for Heart Disease. Mrs. Chas. Boney, Loveland, Col., says its effects on her were marvelous. Elegant book on heart disease free.

Dr. Hale's Household Ointment

A Physician

Seldom recommends a proprietary medicine. A great many use our Household Remedies both in their families and in their practice. Dr. S. L. Reynolds, of Eureka, Ill., writes us that he has had occasion to use Dr. Hale's Household Ointment in several cases of burns and thinks it has few equals. He writes he has also used the Dr. Hale's Household Tea in his own family and finds it is so efficient that he cannot afford to do without it. It is the great blood purifier and nerve tonic. Positively cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, etc. 25 and 50 cents per package at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

You may curse the preachers, and insult the women, but we will elect the Congressman.

The best possible evidence of innocence is an accusation from a Breckinridge source.

Our tobacco crops are extra fine, but have, in a very few instances, been damaged by the too free use of Paris green.

A sneak thief entered the residence of Mr. W. S. Fogg one night last week and attempted an entrance into that of Mrs. Virginia Thompson. In both instances he succeeded in making his escape, but got nothing of value. He hasn't "fessed up" yet, but no doubt will when captured and compelled to do so. Then he may announce himself for Congress. Breckinridge men to the front!

Some of our farmers have sold their hogs at five cents, for delivery after the 20th of the present month. Others are holding for better prices. Stock hogs or feeders are in demand.

Be easy, boys, we know the rotten old hulk is sinking, and her crew must grab at straws; but just keep on your shirts; we are, every one of us, going to support the nominee, and the nominee will be W. C. Owens. Every Owens man will be at the polls to vote, iron-clad pledges don't bluff the boys in the trenches; neither are God's ministers afraid of your cuss words. We are just going to everlastingly bury you and your rotten old candidate in a grave of oblivion. We are going to nominate Billy Owens, then we won't want you. The good people of the Republican and Populist parties won't associate with you, the devil himself won't have you, and Heaven only knows what we shall have to do with you. Guess we will hand you over to Breckinridge, Pollard, Guess & Co.

Now boys, for Owens, for virtue, for honor and for victory. Forward, march!

BULLDOGS.

The Land of Promise

Is the mighty West, the land that "rickeled with a show laughs a harvest," the El Dorado of the miner, the goal of the agricultural emigrant. While it teems with all the elements of wealth and prosperity, some of the fairest and most fruitful portions of it bear a harvest of malaria reaped in its fullness by those unprotected by a method safeguard. No one seeking or dwelling in a malarial locality is safe from the scourge without Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Enlarges, bears this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in malarious regions should carry a bottle of the Bitters in the traditional grip-sack. Against the effects of exposure, mental or bodily overwork, damps and drowsiness, cold and water, it is an infallible defense. Constipation, rheumatism, biliousness, dyspepsia, nervousness and loss of strength are all remedied by this general restorative.

The Schools Closed.

Owing to the numerous cases of diphtheria, and more especially to the deaths which occurred on that day, the School Board decided, on Wednesday, to close the schools from that afternoon until Monday, the 24th inst. The panic among parents had become so great that the daily attendance had dwindled down to about 300, which in itself would be a good argument for closing the schools, even if the Board had not thought the case as serious as imagined. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and, although several new cases have developed in the same neighborhood that has been infected for some weeks, all the older cases are convalescent and it is hoped no more deaths will occur and that the malady will soon be stamped out.

Foot Ball.

The young men of the city who are interested in athletic sports met at the State House this week and took the preliminary steps toward organizing a foot-ball eleven for the coming season by electing Charley Swango captain, with full power to select the ten other regular players and the substitutes and to line them up as he might see fit. The training rules will be more strict than last year, and as about twenty-five athletic young men, including nearly all of last year's team, are candidates for the various positions, Capt. Swango will find his chief trouble in a superabundance, rather than in a dearth of material, to form a strong team.

The candidates have been practicing at Lake Park this week and all the home games will probably be played there, as the ground at Thorn Hill is not adapted to foot-ball. The first game will be with Wesleyan, of Winchester, on the 24th inst. It is also proposed to take a southern trip, going as far as New Orleans, later in the season. It is not known exactly how the new rules adopted by the colleges last spring will affect the game, but it is thought there will be less roughness than last year, as the latest regulations were framed to do away with the "mass" and "momentum" plays and encouraged "open" or individual work and "putting" or kicking.

Teachers' Institute.

The Franklin County Teachers' Institute, attendance upon which is obligatory upon the part of the common school teachers of the county, will be held in the Court House on the second week in October, beginning Monday the 8th. The Institute this year will be conducted by Mr. John Burke, of Newport.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT Of the Ladies' Meeting at the Capital Hotel.

The Secretary, whose name is signed hereto, has furnished the following complete and remarkably interesting account of the remarkable meeting held at the Capital Hotel Saturday afternoon:

In response to a call in last Friday's Daily Capital for a ladies' meeting, a large and enthusiastic audience assembled in the historic parlor of the Capital hotel at the date mentioned, Sept. 8, 4 o'clock p. m.

The meeting was opened with an eloquent prayer by Mrs. Walter Franklin, of the Methodist Church, South, as follows:

Our Father which art in Heaven, because Thou hast been our refuge and strength, a very present help in all our troubles, because the gracious gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ has made such a meeting as this possible to woman, and because Thou knowest it altogether, we are encouraged to bring this cause before Thee.

We pray Thee, inspire the thoughts and purposes of each one in this presence, and control all our efforts, that whatever we shall accomplish, shall help to hasten the time when the wickedness of the wicked shall come to an end and the just established. For Thine is the power, we ask all for Christ's sake to whom with Thee and the Holy Ghost be glory for ever. Amen.

This was followed by the election of a chairman, Mrs. Jennie C. Morton, by acclamation, who appointed a secretary and treasurer and the committees.

The following program was then executed:

Music, the National song, "My Country 'tis of Thee";

Prof. Louis Harris, violin; Miss Clara Buckley, piano; Mrs. C. B. Chinn, soprano; Mrs. Vernon Clark, Mrs. James Miles, alto; in which the audience joined with great enthusiasm.

Brief address by the chairman. The committee appointed for the work. Mrs. John E. Miles and Mrs. John Banta then collected the amounts already subscribed.

Music, "Owens March," a brilliant composition for the occasion, by Prof. Louis Harris.

The following resolutions were then adopted by a committee of the whole by a rising vote:

WHEREAS, We have met to express our indignation at the candidacy of W. C. P. Breckinridge, not so much "in thoughts that breathe and words that burn," as in acts that lend the aid and encouragement to our friends and vindicators, the voters in this political crisis, that we feel is due them from us, but also hereby to insist that they make his nomination not only improbable but impossible, and

WHEREAS, As a body of citizens, whose power for good and effective service as an auxiliary in politics has never before been recognized, we do not now apologize for our presence here, because we believe "woman has come to the kingdom for such a time as this," to give the needed uplift, by her aid, her influence, her counsel and prayerful appeal, to maintain the elevated moral sentiment, of law and order, of the christian homes of Kentucky, and present them, blameless before the world, through the windows of the ballot box, by the legalized voters of the Ashland district.

Resolved, That we will co-operate with the fathers, husbands, sons, brothers and friends in this city, and under their guidance and approval, aid them by every means in our power to defeat the detested nomination of W. C. P. Breckinridge, whose disgrace we deeply deplore, but whose sins we cannot condone.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to Mrs. Ex-Governor Blackburn our sincere admiration for her conduct during the late trial of Breckinridge in Washington City, where she bore herself with the dignity and fearless integrity of a true-hearted Kentucky woman. That we remember her with affectionate pride, while a citizen here in the highest official and social position as the wife of the Chief Executive, and one of the most admired and beloved ladies that ever presided over the Executive Mansion.

Music. Vocal Solo, "My Old Kentucky Home," by Mrs. Dr. C. B. Chinn, accompanied by violin and piano.

After a vote of thanks to the lady musicians and Prof. Harris for their delightful contributions of instrumental and vocal music, and to Mrs. Wetzel for the use of her spacious parlor, the meeting adjourned.

In conclusion, we give the closing paragraph of Mrs. Morton's address in explanation of the objects of "the meeting," from which extracts were telegraphed to New York, Chicago and Louisville papers almost as soon as uttered.

SALLY JACKSON,
Secretary and Treasurer Owens Auxiliary Club.

MRS. MORTON'S CONCLUSION.

Last, we are here to affirm that we believe this result, the vindication of the Ashland district, can best be secured by the nomination of Hon. W. C. Owens. (Enthusiastic applause.)

We all know of him, if we do not know him personally. And as it is always our highest pleasure to praise rather than criticize adversely, we want to say something about this Franklin county boy.

Reared in the simple home of a Kentucky farmer, orphaned early in life, he began to make his way up by his talent, industry, sobriety and self contained dignity. He was not softened by indulgence and luxury, nor made effeminate and deceitful by the polish of fashionable drawing rooms, nor spoiled or made brazenly vain by the applause of college assemblies and literary clubs. (Applause.)

He impresses one as having been stamped in the mold of nature's noblemen.

Handsome as a Roman Tribune ever was, elegant in stature and soldierly in bearing, talented and cultured, he would seem to be fitted especially to represent this district at Washington.

From those who have known him in the home of his adoption, Georgetown, and who have seen him every day for years, we hear he is a kind son and brother, a loyal friend, an honest as well as astute lawyer, eminent in his profession, and a courteous, generous gentleman at all times, at home or abroad the same. From this standpoint, which is a noble vantage ground for any man, it would not seem that we could ask of this district, always prodigal of talented men a finer specimen of mankind for our Representative in Congress. (Applause.)

As some of you may know, years ago he was a member of the Legislature and the Speaker of the House, and our memory fails to recall his superior, if it ever his equal in providing over that notably turbulent body the House of Representatives. His matchless tact, his fine common sense, and his superb management as a parliamentarian and legislator, we have never seen surpassed by any man. (Applause.) And we have been taking notes of the prominent men in the Legislature for many years.

Then, there is this thing, which we hope no one of us who loves Frankfort will ever forget. He has kept the Capital when threatened with removal. He, like us, loved his own native city among the green hills. He was not willing to see property depreciated and its public buildings despoiled, its rights to the Capital trampled upon, and its ancient title clouded and disputed, or ever appropriated by her queenly rivals for the honor of being the seat of government in the grand Commonwealth of Kentucky.

He was our valiant benefactor in that dark hour. He dashed to the duty; all self considerations which he usually control politicians, and gave his time, his talent and his boundless influence to help to secure forever to the people of Frankfort the Capital they had thrice bought and held for a hundred years.

All honor to him. Let us hail him now with grateful pride, the next congressman for the Ashland district.

A Few Words to Our Democratic Friends.

The extraordinary Congressional campaign which has almost turned the old Ashland district upside down for the past three months, has now come to a close and before this reaches the eyes of our readers the final battle of ballots will have commenced.

It is not our purpose to say anything of the merits or demerits of any candidate. The time for that is past.

What we wish to impress upon the voters in the primary is: "Keep cool." Watch the other fellows as much as you please; see that no fraud is committed; but be equally careful that no excess of zeal on your part gives just cause of complaint to your opponents.

To Owens men, to Breckinridge men, and to Settle men, we say the same. We have suffered enough on the eyes of the world already. We can not afford, by disorder and riot, by drunkenness and bloodshed, by intimidation and fraud, to have ourselves held up to the gaze of others as a people who are unable to control themselves in this crisis.

Go to the polls and vote; and when your vote is cast, go about your business. Discussions and disputes can do no good; they may lead to useless bloodshed. If you were never sober on election day in your life, be so now. The eyes of the world are upon us.

Again we say "keep cool."

The Firm Dissolved.

The hardware firm of C. E. & Mr. A. Collins was dissolved on Thursday by mutual consent, Mr. C. E. Collins retiring. The business will be continued at the old stand, corner of Main and Lewis streets, by Mr. M. A. Collins. See his notice in another column.

CRUTCHER & STARKS'

Frankfort, Kentucky.

To the Voters of Franklin County.

FRANKFORT, KY., Aug 1894.

Yielding to the flattering and earnest solicitation of partial friends and representative citizens of all political parties, I have, contrary to my purpose to never again stand for office, determined to make the race for County Judge at the November election, 1894. This is the most important office in the county government. In the hands of the County Judge are placed the liberties of the citizens in criminal trials before examining court, as also the moneyed interests of a large class of debtors and creditors, litigating matters of account in the quarterly court, besides the settlement and oversight of the estates of widows and orphans.

The taxing interests of the citizens is in the hands of the County Judge and the Magistrates.

So it will be seen that your County Judge wields a large influence in county affairs. No more taxes should be laid than are absolutely necessary to meet the bonded indebtedness at its maturity and the annual accruing interest thereon, together with the necessary amount to conduct the county government upon economic, honest business principles. A part of the bonded debt should be met by the next generation, as they are to be equally benefited by it.

It is local taxation and the distribution of the funds derived therefrom that comes home directly to the county and city taxpayer, for it must be met and is felt in proportion to the ability to meet it. Therefore, it is the right of the citizen to demand of his county court the lowest per cent. of tax each year consistent with an economic, honest and impartial government, and to have this tax promptly collected, and honestly and fairly applied to the good of the entire county.

The good people of my native city and county have honored me time and again by electing me to different and important offices. My election for four successive terms to the office which I am soon to vacate, the partiality and most generous favor of my personal associates, as political followers, is an earnest of my faithful, impartial and successful discharge of duty in the past, and must be my guarantee for the future.

I have in no sense sought this office, and if I am elected to it I must be elected by the uncorrupted vote of the people, as I will not bring to bear any corrupting influences to obtain it. At the proper time I will visit the precincts of the county.

Respectfully,
W. H. SNEED.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant, of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had had colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by PHIL. CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.

The Colonel.

Imitation is the sincerest flattery, but when a man of to-day seeks to emulate the eccentricity of a long defunct eastern potentate, and when a soft youth of gentle nurture flings his young affections on a young lady who cuts capers in a circus, it is safe to prognosticate that trouble will ensue, especially when both these delinquents are under the watchful eye of a very strong-minded lady who is universally accorded, for obvious reasons, the title of her late lamented husband. Imagine a young married man, who is fond of his wife and expecting a niece from abroad, fooling with a miscegenist woman, who forces herself into his house, having to be introduced as the expected niece. Then let the young man's brother-in-law fall in love with the circus woman, thinking she is the niece. Next let the "Colonel," also the mother-in-law of the establishment, fall into the same error. Then bring the young wife home, and, best of things, result, which Mr. Sisson has used without accustomed playwright's brilliant results and which must compel unfeigned laughter, handled, as it will be, by a really competent company of dramatic artists, which includes Josephine Florence Shepherd, daughter of Mrs. and the late W. J. Florence. - Extract from N. Y. Press.
